Leave Microsoft alone! They are the reason why so many people have computers in the first place. Can you imagine if everybody's computer ran a different operating system and different software? It's bad enough that we have the "Microsoft people" and the "MAC people" ( and the 3 people who use Linux) not being able to communicate! So what if Bill Gates is the richest man in the world? He deserves it. More power to him! Why don't you do something about AOL/Time-Warner or the drug companies or the insurance companies or the tobacco companies???
